Chris de Hart is a Stellenbosch-based architect who has had his own practice for more than 40 years.The firm’s work encompasses the full spectrum of architectural solutions ranging from small domestic projects to large commercial and industrial ventures, including recreational and educational buildings.Attention to detail is the core element of all the architectural solutions. A holistic approach is taken towards all designs to include the interiors and in many cases the furniture, lighting/light fittings ... particularly where appropriate building elements (e.g. fittings, fixtures and hardware) are not available.Over the years, he has also shared his knowledge freely as a part-time lecturer at the White House School of Interior Design and at the University of Cape Town.
