

Advocate JP Hanekom

---

Corner Wale Street and Burg Street 7th Floor, Mandela Rhodes Place
Cape Town 7130

Phone: +27 832802723

Jurgens Philip Hanekom (Dip Iuris; B.Proc; LLB; LLM- Labour Law; Member of the Independent Association of Advocates of South Africa; Member of South Africa Society of Labour Law) is a seasoned, self-employed advocate, former policeman and prosecutor with more than 30 years of experience in criminal law, labour law, mediation, litigation, with a string of practice areas and sub-practice areas under his belt. He also has extensive practice as a trial lawyer that spans a vast spectrum of law. In addition, he is an active arbitrator / mediator boasting an impressive success record and above average skills in cross- examination, analysis, problem solving, judgement, decision making, planning, and organising in more than 3000 cases. As a labour lawyer he has acted as representative and legal adviser to several parties in more than 1000 cases to date that include matters in High Court (High Court, Labour Court, and Labour Appeal Court). This comprises dispute resolution, mediation, disciplinary hearings, and forensic investigations in respect of corruption, fraud, theft, and etcetera. Career highlights include several high-profile arbitrations at the Office of the Premier. Adv JP Hanekom was admitted to the role of advocates in August 1996. He started off as a prosecutor back in 1989 and qualified to become a practicing advocate, lawyer, and private mediator at the beginning of

page 1 / 2

1999. He has assisted clients like Vehicle Traders Limited in litigation, drafting of contracts, labour law matters and legal adviceSpecialties:Labour LawLitigationCriminal LawLegal OpinionsGeneral Legal WorkDrafting & Reviewing of ContractsCivil & Commercial Mediator

Send Message
Email Friend