The Helderberg Society for the Aged has been delivering services to older people in the Helderberg basin since 1958. The HSFA was started by Rotary and Vonke House was the first purpose built block. Through the years our services, branding and focus areas have changed in order to address changing needs in older people, but our foundation of values and focus of service have been at the heart throughout our existence: caring for older persons.

Our Vision: The HSFA will be recognised by the community and medical profession as leaders in providing professional and specialised long term care for older persons, enhancing their quality of life with dignity and security, within a culture characterised by integrity, commitment, compassion and respect for the individual.

Our Mission: We will achieve our mission by:
- Appointing and/or training suitable qualified staff
- Enhancing our facilities
- Developing creative ways of self funding
- Developing innovative marketing practices
- Engaging the community towards providing integrated and harmonised care for the older person.

Four Pillars of Service: Our focused areas of service delivery for older persons are independent living services, assisted living services, home based care services and frail care services.

Service Centre: A service centre is a community based care and support service where older persons are provided with organised programmes and activities which assist them to live independently in their communities. A service centre is a gateway to the ageing network—connecting older adults to vital community services that can help them stay healthy and independent. For an annual membership fee, benefits include meals at a reduced rate, hairdresser, library, etc.
