Welcome to Neethlingshof, whose vine roots stretch back to the earliest years of winemaking at the Cape – grapes were already being produced on the farm by 1705. Despite being steeped in history with its thatched Cape-Dutch homestead and outbuildings it has also remained in the forefront of new trends and developments, and has become a leading exponent of the drive to balance nature and winegrowing in the Western Cape. As a consequence its select range of wines is a telling reflection of what is uniquely Neethlingshof. Enjoy your visit!
