The Chas Everitt International Property Group has been a service-driven South African real estate company for over 30 years. Much as the South African real estate market has changed and developed over the last 3 decades, so has our family of South African estate agents.

Despite these changes we have kept our focus on delivering a memorable South African property experience for our customers, property buyers and sellers. If you are considering selling, renting or buying property in South Africa, our team of South African property specialists are there to help you through the process.
