"The road to creating successful mobile apps begins with putting PEOPLE first." - Renier Kriel, CEO
People and mobile technology are at the heart of who we are. Our passion lies at the point of synergy between the two, enabling us to add value to your business by developing apps that your consumers will love. To date we've had the privilege of building the most engaging apps for some of Africa's largest consumer-facing brands. 4i Mobile is a full service mobile app development agency. From conceptualisation to design, development and deployment, we build smartphone and tablet apps for all major operating systems. With years of experience under our cap, we've developed a process that delivers top performing apps for organisations both locally and internationally.
