I am a clinical psychologist working in private practice in Somerset West specialising in psychodynamic couple and individual psychotherapy. I hold a Masters Degree in Clinical Psychology from Stellenbosch University and I am registered with the Health Professions Council of South Africa. I am also currently involved part time at Stellenbosch University teaching ethical decision-making and supervising psychodynamic therapy and case presentations with the clinical psychology Masters students. I am a founding member of the Association of Couple Psychoanalytic Psychotherapists and a former chairperson. A further aspect of my interest in couple dynamics is as an accredited FAMAC mediator and facilitator involving contact and care disputes.
