Let Us Protect Your HomeBeetle and electrical certificates are general conditions in most deeds of sale. Since the early 1990’s it has become a legal requirement that when a property is sold, the owner must obtain a certificate to confirm that the electrical installations adhere to government’s safety standards (SANS 10142-1).The beetle certificate is not a legal requirement but the banks require a beetle certificate as a safety requirement before a bond will be approved for a property and is mostly a condition requirement in the deed of sale.Borer Beetles CC specializes in the rendering of this service. We have become a household name in the Boland, Helderberg area and Cape Peninsula. We strive to deliver a service of a very high standard in a cost effective way.We work with Estate Agents and Conveyancing Attorneys to help make the sale of your property as smooth as possible. Through dedication and hard work he established a reputation of honesty and thoroughness. In 2001 Johan Fourie took over the helm and continues to operate with these values. During Bob Swemmer's time only beetle inspections and corrective work were performed. Johan realised the need for a one-stop service and extended Borer Beetles' value proposition to include electrical inspections as well.In the late 90's Johan obtained a qualification from the Forestry Department of the University of Stellenbosch which enabled him to perform "wood destroying organism" inspections. Apart from beetle and electrical inspections and the corrective actions associated with these, Borer Beetles also specialises in the treatment of termites and the methyl bromide fumigation of built-in wood, e.g. floors, roof trusses and furniture. The company is also registered in terms of ISPM15 International Regulations to do fumigation of palettes for export purposes.The owner and staff are registered with the Department of Agriculture as pest control officials, fumigation officials and wood destroying organism inspectors.Johan Fourie is currently the chairperson of the West and Southern Cape branch of the South African Pest Control Association.ServicesCOVID-19 SanitizingTreatment against Borer BeetlesTreatment against TermitesRepairs to electrical faults on commercial and residential propertiesCertification (c.o.c.)Beetle CertificateElectrical CertificatePricing per inspectionStellenbosch, Paarl, Wellington, Somerset West & Strand:R600 plus VAT (R90) = R690 per certificate/inspectionFranschhoek, Grabouw:R700 plus VAT (R105) = R805Malmesbury:R750 plus VAT (R112.50) = R862.50Worcester & Villiersdorp:R1 500 plus VAT (R225) = R1 725Johan is currently the Vice president of SAPCA (South African Pest Control Association).
