Lotus HR & Recruitment is based in Somerset West, however, have a candidate and client base on a national level, working with small, medium and international clients.We pride ourselves on efficient, effective and targeted personal service to our client base, with a solid understanding of the client’s requirements, in both skill set and in company culture dynamics, providing cost effective solutions to staffing requirements.To Job Seekers, we can offer career advice, CV structuring and guidelines on how to be more marketable in a competitive market.We, DO NOT, however, find you a job, this is a misconception on what Recruiters do. Our core business is to source specialist skills and requirements on behalf of our clients, as an extension of their companies.OWNER OF LOTUS HR & RECRUITMENTMARY DE WETSound expertise in HR, Sourcing and Recruitment to clients in the Manufacturing, Construction, Civil, Renewable Energy, Supply Chain, Petrochemical and Engineering sectors. She has sound experience in executive search, recruitment, project management since joining the recruitment industry in 2001 and specialises in Equity networking and sourcing.In addition, Mary is well-networked in Gauteng as well as in the Eastern and Western Cape; giving her a pool of talent focused on BEE based candidates She has also been actively involved in the management of recruitment projects with International market leaders in the Automotive and FMCG sectors by sourcing the technical and engineering staff for the various phases of these projects and provided expertise on scarce skills. Her international Executive Search training has given her a professional perspective on sourcing the talent and skills required, while not waiting for executive talent to apply to normal advertised positions.In 2007, Mary was awarded the Consultant of the Year Award for the Eastern Cape/Border region through APSO which was adjudicated by Industry Leaders both Local and International. This award was based not only on client references but on industry knowledge, candidate references and above all, passion for her industry.
